Dear Mr. President, Speaker Pelosi, and Leader Schumer,

We urge you to seize this critical window of opportunity to pass bold economic recovery legislation that responds to the interwoven crises facing this country. We need immediate action that will build a more just, equitable, clean, and more prosperous American economy.

Specifically, we urge you to swiftly pass legislation that invests at least $4 trillion throughout the economy over this presidential term, bound by high-road labor, equity and climate standards. This legislation would create and retain millions of good-paying union jobs in sustainable infrastructure and buildings, clean energy and transportation, advanced clean manufacturing, care work, regenerative agriculture, natural resource restoration, resilience, and more.

These investments and related policies can help our nation overcome the COVID-19 pandemic and rebuild the economy, reverse growing inequality, confront systemic racism, reduce pollution, guarantee labor rights, and make necessary down payments in tackling the climate crisis. These equitable investments should be prioritized in historically disproportionately-impacted and deindustrialized communities that have borne a legacy of economic disinvestment, health challenges, and environmental harm. And the U.S. must make a robust commitment to international climate action.

Now is the time to realize a full Build Back Better agenda for the American people without delay or dilution. Facing deep economic insecurity, systemic oppression, polluted air and water, and climate disasters, millions of people across the country urgently need solutions as big as the crises we face. Those who argue for small-minded measures are on the wrong side of history.

We stand ready to work with you to promptly win the comprehensive economic renewal that our communities need.

We appreciate the leadership of the White House and Congress in delivering the American Rescue Plan to provide much-needed relief to those who are still reeling from the COVID-19 pandemic. In order to truly build back better, this down-payment in relief must be followed by bold and transformative investments in recovery. This is our moment to build a new economy with justice and prosperity for every community.

Sincerely,

Jason Walsh
